

IOSH training

essential health and safety training

- Improve risk management in your organisation
- Demonstrate to employees and clients that you are a responsible employer
- Courses for director, management and supervisory levels
- Nationally recognised certification to assist your personal development

Health and safety training is a powerful tool in the avoidance, mitigation and defence of personal injury claims. If you can demonstrate that you have provided relevant training for your employees, your organisation is better protected.

IOSH Managing Safely

This four day course for managers and supervisors gives delegates the skills to carry out their duties more effectively and to protect the health, safety and wellbeing of colleagues and anyone else affected by their organisation's activities.

IOSH Directing Safely

This one day course gives directors and company owners an improved understanding of the moral, legal and business case for proactive health and safety management and offers practical, commercially aware guidance on effective risk management.

Check our website for details of where and when these courses are taking place.

These courses are accredited by IOSH (the Institution of Occupational Safety and Health) and delivered by our own highly qualified trainers.

I can wholeheartedly recommend the excellent IOSH training which Ellis Whittam provided to our Executive Board and key members of staff.

Elaine Nisbet, HR Director, City Health Care Partnership, Hull

Ellis Whittam have the knack of making H&S interesting and relevant and the feedback on course delivery is always strongly positive.

Steve Crowther, Human Resources Director, Prospects
